

STUDENTS FOR A SUSTAINABLE STANFORD

Week of October 26, 2009

Do this now. Go to Dining's website and tell them how much you appreciated the 350.org project. They really respond to student feedback. <https://rde-web1.stanford.edu/dining/letusknow.do>

Hey you... Are you a HumBio major? SSS needs you to submit our proposal for a Bing Grant for funding for GreenFest. Contact Dave (dbgeeter@).

Climate Action Week Recap Thanks to all who came out for tabling, Climate Change tag, and greening homecoming reunions this past week. Look out for a feedback survey from Theo on our 350.org work in the dining halls.

Group RRRR Congratulations on the newest R: Rot! They will be testing the effects of compost on soil instead of fertilizer. They need students to help monitor the soil—no experience necessary. Contact Nicole (gaetjens@).

Climatabling Join the Climateers in White Plaza Thursday 11:30-1:30 to talk about Stanford's energy plan and call senators. Contact Frances (fellerbe@) or Eli (epollak@).

Waste Audit Thursday 10:30-1 at PSSI (by Parking and Transportation). Come for whatever time you have. Email Theo with questions (ayelen@).

Farmer's Market Meet 11AM Sunday at the Oval. Look for an email from Joel/Eli soon.

Green Fund Reminder Applications due Friday.

CSSC Conference Next Weekend in Santa Cruz. We have about 10 people going, and it's not too late to sign up. Register online now: sustainabilitycoalition.org/. Email Jenny with questions (jrempel@).

Events this Week

Movie Showing: Maquiapolis A movie about factory workers in Tijuana. 7-8:30PM Thursday in Annenberg. See events.stanford.edu/events/204/20417/.

Movie Showing: King Corn A movie that follows corn from growth to consumption. 7-8:30PM Friday at World Centric (a close bike ride away). See worldcentric.org/.

Engineers for a Sustainable World Social Y2E2 101 5:30-7:30 Wednesday

Stanford Institute for Economic Policy Summit Summit on climate policy. Friday all day at Bechtel. See siepr.stanford.edu/.

